To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce Allstar Construction as one of the premier companies in the construction roofing industry in the Twin Cities area and the Midwest.

Allstar Construction has been in business since 1979 and we have had the good fortune to be aligned with a company such as Vande Hey Raleigh for the past ten years. Their expertise with regard to specialty tile products and their first class representation have helped us to achieve the quality installations and commitment to service that our customers have come to expect.

I strongly recommend Vande Hey Raleigh for both their product and their first-class service. It is because of our relationship with a company such as this that we have achieved the level of success that we enjoy today.

Regards,

Adam Rametta
Senior Project Manager
